THE CROP OUTLOOK.

Regarding the crop prospects throughout the State generally, the the Union, it would also be well. tone of the press is gloomy. The Sacramento Bee, some days since, commencing a review of the situation with the quotation, "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," said: "For weeks the public have been hoping for rain which has not come, and which, from all appearances, is as far away now as it was a month ago. It is but nature ! that all desire to put the best face possible upon the impending calamity, but it is scarcely ever profitable to try to deceive ourselves. If rain were to come within a few days in ample quantity there might be of grain half a crop or more, but to bring such yield rain must come soon. The hay and grain harvest is now threatened with annihilation, and the grasses to feed live stock during the summer will be scant. The farmers' crops and live enacted a law prohibiting dealers in stock are not likely to be profitable tobacco and cigars from selling to mithis year for want of rain, while the nors. There will be a considerable increase of taxable property over last year, though some property is rated higher and some lower than by the last assessment. Lots on Fourth street, the business portion, are rated at $20 and $25 per front foot, the latter for corner lots. Mr. James Travis, water overseer for the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company, gives it as his opinion that this section of country was never better prepared to stand a dry season than now all the land susceptible of irrigation having been thoroughly watered and water leing now freely used.

The following were the exports from the Santa Ana depot for the week ending march 23d. Eggs. 91 cases, 5460 pounds; lemons and limes. 58 boxes. 2370 pounds; oranges, 377 boxes, 25 580 pounds; sheep, 13 cars, 260,000 pounds; coal, 1 car, 41, 310 pounds; general merchandise, 10,920 pounds. morning, but struck on the bar, the water being low, and then swung round upon the beach. Lines were then run out to the buoy outside, held in position by an immense anchor, and Thursday night the steamer worked herself clear and went on her way uninjured. The Orizaba, which went up from San Pedro to assist the Duncan, met the latter as she was steaming away for San Francisco.

From the Santa Ana Herald.] Land sales have been rather brisk dur-ing the present week.

Travis & Brown, real estate agents, have sold some seventy acres of the Wicks tract, 265 acres of the Orme tract, and thirty-nine acres of the Jesse and Wiley Travis tract, all of which lands lie about one and a half miles from the village of Orange, to George C. Hagar, the consideration being $21,000 cash. It is supposed these lands, which are most eligibly situated, will be planted to orchard and vineyard by Boston capitalists, for whom Mr. Hagar asted as agent in the purchase.

Mr. Armour has sold his orchard and
